

Having a compliance program makes a difference.

In today's health care marketplace, recent laws and regulations illustrate the government's focus on scrutinizing the actions of hospitals, home care services, physician practices, long-term care facilities, and other health care providers.

You need to protect yourself from potential civil and criminal sanctions. Having a compliance program is the way to start.

The Department of Health and Human Services and its Office of the Inspector General encourages health care organizations to establish and implement compliance programs as a way to demonstrate your efforts to comply with state and federal laws. In some cases, federal law even mandates providers to have an effective compliance program.

PROCESS

WASHINGTON DC MICHIGAN ILLINOIS ARIZONA

CLARK HILL

ENLIST

ENDORSE

ENCOURAGE

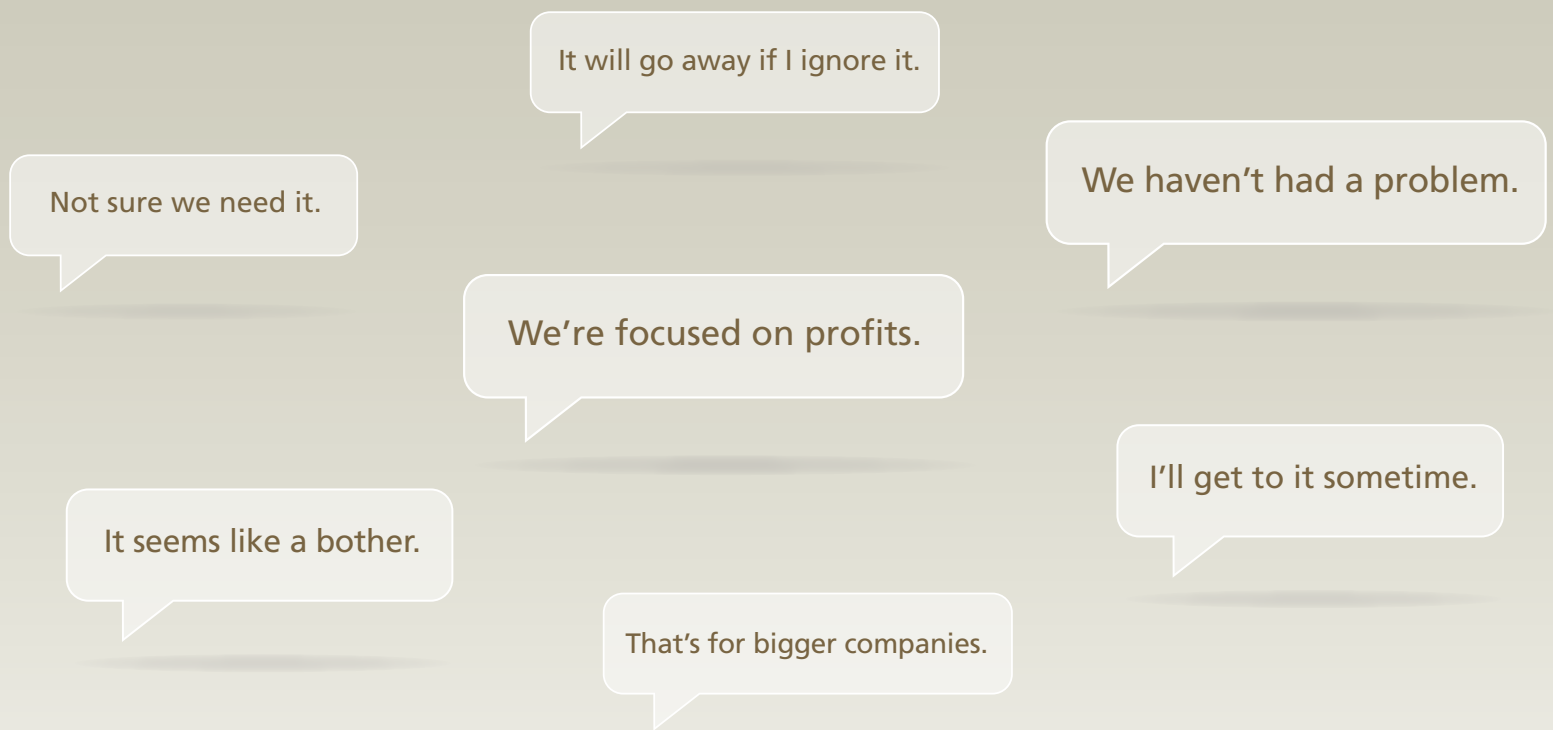

ENFORCE

Health Care Compliance Program

Looking at the big picture in health care today

CLARK HILL
Legal and Professional Services

When it comes to compliance is this your universe?

This should be your world.

Clark Hill can help.

Our knowledgeable experts will customize a compliance program based on an assessment of your needs. Whether you are starting from the ground up or already have a compliance structure in place, our goal is to help prepare and protect you in today's healthcare environment.

Establishing a compliance program is important to protecting your organization, and your career. For instance, in the event you are ever charged with violating laws and regulations, U.S. Sentencing Guidelines state that the presence of an effective compliance program in an organization will be viewed favorably.

We will provide:

- Codes of Conduct
- Policies and Procedures
- Employee Education and Training
- Dedicated Hotline Support
- Governance Board Education and Training

Benefits include:

- Attorney/Client Privilege Where Appropriate
- Annual Compliance Assessments
- Board/Management Reporting
- Compliance Investigation Support
- Customized Compliance Solutions

For a complete list of our services, please visit www.clarkhill.com

CLARK HILL
Legal and Professional Services