. . . Universal Service Funds for the upcoming year, for the provision, maintenance, and upgrading of facilities and services for which the support is intended consistent with Section 254(e) of the Federal Telecommunications Act of 1934, as amended. Each fall, the Commission issues a Minute Action to the FCC indicating which carriers have complied with certain reporting requirements for the previous year. In 2014, the Commission formally opened Docket No. U-17545 for the purpose of receiving all ETC filings pertaining to Lifeline/Tribal Linkup, High Cost, and Connect American Fund I & II, including ETC's Form 481 Filings to allow the Commission to proceed with the Michigan Recertification process. According to the letters sent by the Commission's Telecommunications Division the following carriers had previously received ETC designation, but have not been annually reapplying for USF recertification:

Company Name	Docket No.	Date of ETC Designation	Last Year Filed for Recertification
ACD Telecom of the North	U-15967	August 11, 2009	2009
Huron Mountain Communications Co.	U-15790	April 16, 2009	2010
Michigan Access, Inc.	U-16085	February 10, 2010	2012
NSCW Telecom, Inc.	U-15974	August 11, 2009	2009

TC3 Telecom, Inc.	U-16118	February 8, 2010	2012
Telnet Worldwide, Inc.	U-16266	August 25, 2011	Never

The Commission's Telecommunications Division has provided the above listed carriers with notification that they have thirty (30) days from the date of the letter, October 28, 2014, to provide necessary information to the Commission. Failure to do so will result in the Commission taking action toward revoking the carriers' ETC designation.

PROPOSALS FOR DECISION |

Case No. U-17644

Consumer Complaint: Cable

John McCready v Comcast Phone of Michigan LLC

On November 12, 2014, Michigan Administrative Hearing System Administrative Law Judge Dennis W. Mack (“ALJ”) acting for the Michigan Public Service Commission (“Commission”), issued his Proposal for Decision (“PFD”) in the matter of the June 6, 2014, Formal Complaint of John McCready against Comcast of Michigan (“Comcast”). In his Complaint, Mr. McCready alleged that Comcast switched his cable service to a more expensive service without his permission. An evidentiary hearing was held before the ALJ on September 9, 2014.

As noted in the PFD, Mr. McCready alleges Comcast switched his cable service to a more expensive service without his permission, and then sent him bills for that service. Comcast did not dispute this allegation, and during the hearing stipulated to that fact. The ALJ found that this implicates the prohibition of a video service provider charging “a customer for a subscribed service for which the customer did not make an initial affirmative order,” under the Uniform Video Services Act, 2006 PA 480, (“Act”) MCL 484.3310(1)(b). Mr. McCready argued that his entitlement to damages arises from the violation is governed under the “make whole” provision of this section of the Act. As far as a penalty for the violation, Comcast argued it could only be fined within the $200 to $500 range in §14(1)(b) because it falls under the 250,000 telecommunication access line threshold.

According to Comcast's records and testimony, Mr. McCready's sister, Joy Nicholls, inquired on May 23, 2013 about upgrading to Comcast's Triple Play package. "In response, the [Comcast] representative submitted a 'no scheduled order' on the package, which places the order on hold until the customer calls back to confirm the upgrade. However, due to a software error, the order was treated as a work order and the process for upgrading Mr. McCready's service began. Because the no scheduled order is used infrequently, the error had not previously occurred, and Comcast remedied the problem when it became known." Mr. McCready argued that Comcast had acted deliberately, and "cannot avail itself of the bona fide error defense." However, the ALJ found that Mr. McCready did not enter any substantive evidence to support this argument and noted that Comcast has taken steps to rectify the software error.

The ALJ found that "the only credible evidence on this record is that due to a software error, the entry of the no scheduled order resulted in a work order that eventually led to Mr. McCready receiving more expensive cable service. When Comcast was apprised of the situation, it fixed the software error. Therefore, the violation came about from an unintentional and bona fide error notwithstanding Comcast's procedures intended to prevent unauthorized account activities. For this reason, Comcast should not be fined under the Act. MCL 484.3314(2)."

The ALJ recommends that the Commission find that "Comcast violated the Act when it upgraded Mr. McCready's cable service on May 29, 2013 without his authorization, and then billed him for the upgraded service on June 21, 2013. MCL 484.3310(1)(b)." . . . However, because the violation was unintentional and the result of a bona fide error, and Comcast had taken steps to avoid such errors, a fine should not be assessed. MCL 484.3314(2)." As to Mr. McCready's allegations of damages, the ALJ recommends that the Commission find that such are "not warranted under the Act or the facts of this case."

Parties wishing to file Exceptions to the PFD are required to do so by December 1, 2014. Replies to Exceptions, if any, are due on December 12, 2014.
