

Emerging Growth/Venture Capital

Clark Hill attorneys and professionals regularly represent emerging businesses in raising capital as well as the individuals and funds that finance them.

We have extensive experience assisting entities in raising capital through Regulation D private placements, including preparation of offering memoranda and associated federal and state securities filings. Our attorneys regularly advise clients on both sides of targeted equity issuances, including issuances of preferred equity by early-stage companies and issuances by more established companies of equity blocks to investors looking to establish substantial minority positions. We also regularly advise both issuers and lenders for conventional debt investments, high yield debt offerings, and in conjunction with the firm's Corporate Finance group, credit facilities and structured financings.
