
Sarbanes Oxley

Clark Hill attorneys are experienced in handling issues arising from the sweeping Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, which criminalizes certain activities of corporate officers, directors, and public accountants in the preparation and publication of financial statements and other corporate reports. This Act provides for criminal penalties of up to $10 million and 20 years in prison and has greatly increased the need for experienced criminal defense counsel in providing advice to boards of directors and audit committees of publicly held companies, in addition to their accounting firms.

White Collar Criminal Defense Leaders

Martin E. Crandall
+13139658413
mcrandall@clarkhill.com

Robert J. Ridge
+14123942440
ridge@clarkhill.com

White Collar Criminal Defense Areas of Practice

Avoidance of Indictments
Compliance
Grand Jury Investigations
Influenced Prosecutorial Decision Making
Internal Investigations
Plea Bargains
Trial Management