
Colleen M. Brown

Paralegal

Colleen Brown is a Paralegal in Clark Hill's Litigation practice group. Colleen has experience in the production and legal review of voluminous discovery documentation (claim files, contracts, leases, insurance policies, expert reports). She has prepared summaries, indexes, exhibits and binders for hearings, mediation and depositions and drafted correspondence, pleadings, tender letters, and various matrices and spreadsheets. She is also skilled in performing public record searches, locating witnesses, and handling service of process for complex cases.

Colleen graduated from San Diego State University and received her Paralegal Certificate at California State University, San Marcos. She also attended National University for her master's degree in public health and received her ABA Paralegal Certification from the University of San Diego. She is a Member of the San Diego Paralegal Association and the National Association of Legal Assistants.
