

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Partner Deborah Hong and counsel Jana M. Macy's "Food for Thought" fundraiser at the The event raised over $60,000 for the organ- eracy services for adults in the Philadelphia orate transactions and Landon is founder and and data security team. Pictured, from left, e president and Center for Literacy trustee; handled municipal liability, civil rights defense and appellate matters.

SPEAKERS

Jennifer Weidler Karpchuk of Chamberlain Hrdlicka is set to discuss "Hot Topics in New York/New Jersey/Pennsylvania State Tax Issues" in an upcoming CLE seminar sponsored by the New Jersey Society of Enrolled Agents. It is scheduled from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday.

To register, visit goo.gl/fCZo1v. Karpchuk represents clients in various matters related to state and local taxation.

ELECTED AND APPOINTED

Robert Kitchenoff of Weinstein Kitchenoff & Asher was elected president of the Jewish National Fund's Philadelphia board of directors.

He will be taking the place of the outgoing president, Michael Boni, who served in the position for the last two years.

Kitchenoff, a partner and founding member of Weinstein Kitchenoff, and Boni, co-founder of Boni & Zack, are set to be honored Tuesday at JNF's Philadelphia Board Installation and Major Donor Reception in Philadelphia.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Clark Hill turned 125 years old this year. To celebrate, each employee is donating at least 125 minutes to the charity of his or her choice.

Local projects include the Breathing Room Foundation, Old Pine Community Center, Philabundance, Wheels for the World, Main Line Girls Basketball Association and more.

Firm Managing Partners Invited To Business Networking Breakfast

The PaLaw Managing Partners Breakfast, The Legal's gathering of Pennsylvania's law firm leaders for a networking and information session filled with useful business intelligence, is scheduled from 8 to 9:30 a.m. Dec. 8 at the Union League, 140 S. Broad St., Philadelphia.

The centerpiece of the breakfast will be a presentation given by Thomson Reuters, a leading source of intelligent information in the legal industry.

Thomson Reuters will analyze the findings from The Legal's 20th annual managing partners survey, compare them to national trends and give insights on what lies ahead for the Pennsylvania legal market in 2016.

Additional members of attendees' management teams are invited. If you cannot attend, another member of your management committee is invited to take your place. Attending managing partners will receive a free complimentary breakfast.

To register, RSVP by email to Diane McCollum at dmccollum@alm.com or 215-557-2335.

The Legal looks forward to seeing you Dec. 8.

JUSTICE NEWS
PENNSYLVANIA ASSOCIATION FOR JUSTICE

The Pennsylvania Association for Justice has a membership of 2,500 trial attorneys from across the Commonwealth.

Justice News, published 6 times a year and distributed to all members, contains practice-related articles, columns by association leaders, upcoming program information, news about members and much more.

Promote your brand to this affluent, sophisticated group of leaders and decision

EVER WONDER WHERE THE PEOPLE WITH ALL THE ANSWERS, GET ALL THE ANSWERS?

ASK MARCUM